Copenhagen, January 3.

WE expect with the utmost Impatience, News of the Success of the Detachment of 3000 Men sent to Drontheim as soon as the Enemy were decamp'd from before Frederickshall, in order to cut off the Retreat of the Swedish Body under General Ahrenfeldt. We hear by Deserters, that the Duke of Holstein, went to Stockholm immediately after the Death of the King of Sweden, accompanied by General Rhinschild. [Note, This Letter makes no mention of General Rhinschild's proclaiming that Duke King, as some Adversaries pretend to say.]

On Sunday last publick Thanksgivings to God were made, for the Retreat of the Swedes from Norway; which was follow'd by a Triple Salvo of the Cannon on the Ramparts.

Count Schack and the Councillor Skrader return'd hither last Night. 'Tis said the former will be made President of the Chamber of Finances.

Hamburgh, Jan. 6. The Confirmation of the Death of the King of Sweden, and of the precipitate Retreat of the Swedish Army from Norway, is come to us from all Sides, the Detail whereof having been printed so often, there is nothing to add, but that the Swedish Army that was at Sudensfeldt consisted at first of 11400 Horse, and 13600 Foot; and that thro' the vigorous Resistance they met with at Frederickshall and Sudensfeldt, many of them had been kill'd, there was Reason to presume, that even altho' this unhappy Accident of the King's Death had not happen'd, as many of them would have perish'd by Hunger and the Injuries of the Weather as by the Fire and Arms of the Besieg'd; their Cavalry, as well as their Infantry having suffer'd very much by the Want of all Necessaries, which could not be brought to them, because of the Openness of the Weather, and the Want of a strong Frost to render the Rivers and Roads passable. The King of Sweden had with him 17 Generals, besides the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel. The Danish Generals have detach'd a Body of Troops towards Drontheim, to cut off the Retreat of General Ahrenfeldt, if he had not already withdrawn before they come up. The Bishop of Lubeck, Uncle of the young Duke of Holstein Gottorp, has received an Express from Haland, who brought a Letter from the said Duke, with the News of the Death of the King of Sweden. We expect in a few Days the Return of the Sieur Amthoir, Aide de Camp of General Ducker, who carried that News to the Court of Hesse Cassel. That Express confirm'd as he pass'd by for Holland, that Baron Gortz was arrested by the Hereditary Prince, and sent to Stockholm, under a strong Guard.

They write from Mecklemburg, that the News of the Death of the King of Sweden, had occasioned there a great Consternation; and that it was not doubted, that the Duke seeing all his Measures broken by this unexpected Event, repents already of his past Conduct, and that he is now in earnest apprehensive of the Effects of an approaching Execution, which he has been so long threaten'd with; the more, in that he hears that the Russians who have been in Quarters at Malchien, and other Places thereabouts, and had already received Orders to march towards the Elbe, have now receiv'd Counter Orders. This Death hath not less affected the Court of the Duke Administrator of Holstein, who receiv'd the first News of it from M. Pouffin Minister of France, to whom the Count de la Marck sent an Express of it.

They write from Vienna, that Assurances have been given to the Spouse of Prince James Sobieski, who has been brought under an Imperial Guard from Inspruck to Olaw in Silesia, that the Princess her Daughter, who was contracted to the Pretender, shall be speedily enlarg'd, and put again into her Hands. That by the last Letters from Rome they heard the Pope was better; and that the Ambassadors of his Imperial Majesty had made Complaints to his Holiness, that a certain Abbot Native of Sweden, who four Years ago turn'd Roman Catholick, was so often admitted to his Audience, and was besides very much caress'd and gratified by the Court of Rome, notwithstanding that it is notorious, that Abbot is a finish'd Intriguer, and constantly maintains a dangerous Correspondence with the Court of Sweden.

A Swedish Vessel, upon which was 30000 Carolines for the Account of Baron Gortz, was cast away near the Island of Aland, and only 3000 Carolines were saved.

Hague, Jan. 10. They write from Brussels, that the Animosity and Disunion between the Council of State and that of the Finances for the Austrian Netherlands, increases daily, the latter of the former, upon Pretext that it exceeded their Power and Instructions. That the Authority of the Marquis de Prié increases more and more, and that his Imperial Majesty has taken very ill the Letter which some of the Members of the Regency presum'd to write to him against the Administration of that Minister; which Letter was sent to him for his Information, and as a Mark of the Confidence in him.

The States Envoy at Vienna writes, that Prince Eugene had declar'd, he should in three or four Weeks make a Tour to the Austrian Netherlands.

The States of Holland having on the 4th Instant resumed their Session, they unanimously consented on the 6th to enter into the Quadruple Alliance, and the States of Friesland have since follow'd their Example; so that there are only the States of Zealand and Utrecht wanting. And the States General have written in most pressing Terms to the States of those two Provinces, to induce them to conform without Delay to the Resolution of the States of Holland.

We hear from Cologne, that upon the Advice receiv'd at Bonn of the Death of the Bishop of Munster, the Great Chancellor of the Elector of Cologne, Baron Katig, went to Munster, where the Partizans of the Electoral House of Bavaria think themselves sure that the Election will fall upon a Prince of the said Electoral House; for which purpose several considerable Remittances have lately been made from that Court to Cologne. On the other side, it seems Baron Landberg, Great Dean of that Bishoprick, is strongly supported by a neighbouring Potentate. In the mean time, it appears that the States do not openly meddle in that Affair, and seem to wait to know the Sentiments of the Court of Vienna thereupon.
